

Having a small business I find it very difficult to adhere to more restrictive "State" do not call regulations that are in PA and NJ.

Friends and family should be excluded from the do not call list. Also, if non-profit, police and political organizations do not need to abide by the do not call list - why should anyone else?